

The Fairfield Memorial Hospital Foundation was established in 2010 to support Fairfield Memorial Hospital, an accredited 25-bed critical access hospital. Located in Winnsboro, South Carolina, the hospital has served the health needs of Fairfield County for more than 50 years. In partnership with physicians and other regional healthcare providers, Fairfield Memorial Hospital provides compassionate, quality health services to meet the needs of the nearly 25,000 citizens of Fairfield County.

Donations to the Foundation are used to fulfill some of the critical needs of the hospital. Projects considered for funding include capital improvements to the facility, new or replacement equipment and technology, enhanced and additional patient services, community health education and healthcare career scholarships.
